The Dog's Reward.
Here dogs are hereafter to have medals for deeds of valor. The chairman of the small animals committee says that they "have too long been rewarded with a mere pat on the head and a kind word." Still, a dog would rather have a pat on the head and a kind word from the right person than a ton of committee medals from strangers.

Fine Winter Vegetable.
We are only just now beginning to have skirrets in our market. This vegetable is an Asiatic one, being known to China and India. It has been a favorite in Europe and especially in Paris for 25 years, and has tuberous clustered roots, very white and sweet, and when served with butter they are delicious. It is a most desirable winter vegetable.

BANKRUPT STOCK IS SOLD AT EDGERTON

Sale of T. A. Perry Goods Yesterday Insured Creditors Receiving Sixty Cents on the Dollar.
(Special to the Gazette.)
Edgerton, Nov. 16.—The sale of the T. A. Perry stock took place at the Front street store yesterday afternoon, conducted by the Central Wisconsin Trust company of Madison, trustee in bankruptcy. The stock of goods was sold to Andrew Jensen of the Tobacco Exchange bank for $4,200 and the tobacco warehouse also owned by Perry was sold to C. G. Biederman for $475. There were a number of bidders on the stock from out of town, and even at that it is estimated that the sale price is about 60 cents on the dollar. Announcement has not been made as to how the stock will be disposed of.

Edgerton Locals.
Floyd Hahn was in town this morning from Janesville.
Mrs. Edmund Sweet of San Francisco is here to spend the week, the guest of Principal and Mrs. Holt.
Prof. Photos, who for two weeks resided in the revival meetings held at the M. E. church recently, spent the day yesterday in this city calling on friends. At present he is assisting in similar work in Delavan.
In the Doty pasturing land across Saunders' creek is a top buggy which was taken there on Halloween night and the owner of the same is not as yet known. It is a very good outfit and has side lights. A few days ago small boys, while playing, broke one of the rear wheels thereon. The sooner the owner comes the more will there be left of the outfit.
Church Fire Prevented.
Last night at six o'clock as Will Davis was approaching the alley between the millinery store and Congregational church on Henry street he discovered fire on the roof of the church. Coolheaded, he found assistance, and with ladders nearby he aided the fire company and without anyone in the church knowing of the danger they were confronting. The ladies of the church were serving supper in the basement of the structure at the time.

PLANS MADE FOR FIRST BROTHERHOOD MEETING.
Executive Committee Meets and Plans Year's Work.—First Meeting Will Be Held November 24.
At their meeting yesterday afternoon of the executive committee of the Brotherhood of the Presbyterian church it was decided to hold the four meetings of this year in November, January, February and April, and they appointed the necessary committees. The subject and speakers for the first meeting has not been decided on yet but arrangements have been made with the ladies of the church to furnish the supper and an immediate canvass of the church members will be made to ascertain the number of plates needed. S. H. Hedges, A. Wilkinson, George Metcalf, and William Blair were appointed as the reception committee; S. M. Smith, A. A. Jackson and P. H. Korst as membership committee; F. S. Taylor and E. M. Calkins, for music and B. C. Jackson and J. R. Lamb as support committee. Announcement of the first meeting November 24 will be made later.

LOAN BAND WILL AID IN RELIEF MOVEMENT
Decide at Meeting Tuesday Night to Collect Clothing and Sew for Storm Sufferers.
At the meeting of the Loan Band of the Congregational church, Tuesday evening, it was decided to devote one day next week to sewing for the storm sufferers, and to sewing clothing for distribution. The exact day was not named but it will be at an early date.

Following the supper which was served to the members, Tuesday, Miss Fannie Bennett, who is a niece of Miss Curtis, and has lately returned from her field of missionary activities in India, gave a very interesting address. She told of the conditions existing in that country at the present and what is being accomplished by the missionaries.

Mrs. C. K. McDonald entertained the ladies of the Roosevelt club yesterday afternoon at her home on Court Street. The afternoon was spent with cards. Mrs. E. O'Donnell winning first honors and Mrs. Dixon the second prize. Light refreshments were served.

HOW THEY HANDED THE CYCLOPE NEWS IN NEW YORK
William Westerland, president of the Monitor Automobile Works, has just returned from a trip to New York City. He says that the New York papers last Monday contained vivid accounts of the tornado which swept through Rock county Saturday.

The loss was placed in the millions and fatalities greatly exaggerated. Mr. Westerland received the impression that Janesville was in the direct path of the storm and was gratified to find that the city escaped.
Water at Highest Mark: The water in Rock river above the dam now stands sixteen inches above the government mark, the highest reached this fall. The river is frozen over above the dam.
Start Bridge Surveys: Two assistants of City Engineer C. V. Korch started surveying this afternoon for the abutments of the new Fourth avenue bridge.

ABANDONED TRAIN FOR WANT OF AN ENGINE

On Account of the Increased Freight Traffic the Supply of Engines This Morning Occurred the Last Year.
This morning occurred the last year's rush of the train at the local yard, as a train after train was ordered, and crews were rushed out as soon as possible to take charge of the incoming and outgoing freight traffic, which was the heaviest it has ever been the past year.
Train number 331, which leaves here every day for points between here and Fond du Lac, was abandoned on account of the shortage of proper engines at the yards. Almost every engine was used today, but the demand exceeded the supply. It is thought that unless engines come to relieve the congestion, things will be left worse than ever later on this evening.
Train 319 was run in two sections this morning over the Northern Wisconsin division and two sections of train 322 were delayed, coming this way, on account of two extra freight trains ahead of them, each carrying between forty and fifty loaded cars.
The "Cotton" at the Pike Point, stated this morning that he never saw traffic as heavy as it was this morning between the hours of seven and eleven.

OBITUARY.
Henry C. Storey.
The body of the late Henry C. Storey, a former Janesville resident, who died in Seattle, Sunday, arrived here from Chicago today accompanied by the widow of the deceased, his son, Ellsworth, and his brother, C. W. Storey of Chicago. The remains were removed to the Kimball undertaking establishment and at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon taken to Oak Hill cemetery for interment. The Rev. David Denton conducted a short service at the grave. The pallbearers were William Conrad, C. N. Van Kirk, David Watt, and John Jones. Those from out of the city who attended the funeral, other than the immediate relatives, were Mrs. A. G. Becho and Miss Mildred Westfall of Chicago. The deceased came to Janesville in 1854, moved to Chicago in 1860, and for the last six years he lived in Seattle.

NEW DIRECTOR HAS BEEN CHOSEN AT "Y"
Welch Forced to Leave Because of Broken Health. Hartwell Appointed.
T. C. Hartwell, formerly of Oil City, Pa., who has been assistant physical director at the local Y. M. C. A., since classes started this fall, has assumed the duties of active physical director there. Mr. Welch, who came from Chadron, Neb., to occupy this position, has been forced to give up the work on account of ill health and left Tuesday for his father's home in Milwaukee. Mr. Hartwell has been active in the work all year and has now taken entire charge of the gymnasium classes.
Mr. Hartwell has had considerable training in the teaching of body building exercises in Oil City and Franklin, Pa., and has demonstrated his ability as a gymnast in the classes which he has been attending. The officers of the Y. M. C. A. are congratulating themselves on being able to fill Mr. Welch's place on such short notice, and so well.

Last week the B Juniors organized a basketball team which is much as follows:—Hendrick, Dalton, McKeligue, Rau, Stickney and McAffrey, with perhaps a few more as subs.

The seniors will be the next class to organize a team and an effort will be made to do so this evening if there are sufficient men present. In all probability the intermediates will not have a team until the practice begins at the high school.
NORTHWEST LA PRAIRIE
Northwest La Prairie, Nov. 16.—Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Jones of San Prairie, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Davis, left Saturday afternoon for a visit with relatives at Evansville. The corn shredders were at J. M. Huganin's, Wednesday.
There will be a box social at the school house in district No. 2 on Saturday evening, Nov. 25. Everyone is invited to attend.
Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffer of Albany visited Saturday and Sunday at Henry Nelson's.
Miss Irene Davis accompanied her mother, Miss Emma Wells, to her home at Milton, Friday evening, for a couple of days' visit.
John Huganin was out in his auto Wednesday afternoon looking over the district which was visited by the terrible storm of Saturday afternoon.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on each 50-cent case of Diapepsin, then you will readily understand why this promptly cures indigestion and removes such symptoms as heartburn, a feeling like a lump of lead in the stomach, belching of Gas and Eructa-

LOCAL HIGHS WILL PLAY AT JEFFERSON

Football Team From High School Here Clash With Jefferson High School Friday Afternoon.
Friday afternoon of this week, the local high school football squad will journey to Jefferson where they will take on the Jefferson team. A game between these two schools was arranged for last Saturday but was not pulled off owing to the storm.
Coach McMurray endeavored to arrange for them to play the game this coming Saturday but the Jefferson team would not hear to it as they are going to Madison and see the Wisconsin-Minnesota game. However, the principals of the two schools have agreed to let the game be played on Friday afternoon. As a result the local squad will be given a half holiday and go to Jefferson where the game will be played. As the local team have been beaten by only one high school this season, a victory over Jefferson seems certain for them.

SUSPENDED SENTENCE ON PRISONER FOR TWO WEEKS
Fritz Borgsalm Released on Promise of Good Behavior—Three Others Up for Drunkenness.
Fritz Borgsalm, who pleaded guilty this morning before Judge Mifflin to being intoxicated, was dismissed and his sentence suspended for two weeks on his promise of good behavior. If, at the end of that time, he has not fallen from grace, the action will probably be dropped. Borgsalm has not been before the court for over two years and for this reason the judge was lenient.
Eddie Ryan and Ed. Burkhardt were each fined $4 and costs for the same offense. W. White of Evansville was released on his promise to go home and keep sober.

FORMER PASTOR WILL BE HERE ON SUNDAY NEXT
The Rev. F. L. Maryon, formerly rector of Trinity church, this city, and at present chaplain at Kemper Hall School for Girls, Kenosha, will visit the scene of his former labors the end of this week. He will conduct the services in Trinity church on Sunday next. The Rev. Henry Wilmann left for Kenosha today in order to take Rev. Father Maryon's duties and enable him to come to Janesville and visit among his old friends.

Sheriff J. H. Revell Writes Chief of Police Appleby to Keep an Eye Open For J. W. Fahey.
J. H. Revell, sheriff of Forest county, Iowa, has written Chief of Police George Appleby to keep a watch for J. W. Fahey, for whom he holds a warrant on the charge of wife desertion. He is said to be five feet nine inches tall, weighs about 160 pounds and is about thirty-five years old. He is tattooed on one arm just above the wrist with a printer by trade and a good dresser.

BRIEF LOCAL NEWS.
Regular Meeting of Eagles: A regular meeting of Janesville Lodge No. 724, F. O. E., will be held this evening at 8 o'clock sharp. Nominations of officers for the ensuing year will be made, an initiation will be held, important committees will report and other business will be taken up that will require the presence of every member of the order. Elmer M. Joyce, Jr., Secretary.
Laying Out Grade: An engineer of the Chicago & Northwestern railway arrived here today to lay out a new grade for the belt line, necessitated by the construction of the new Racine street bridge, the floor of which is about five feet above the present level of the track.
W. C. T. U. Meeting: The Mothers' meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the Union hall at three o'clock yesterday afternoon. After the close of the business session, President Mrs. A. W. Harwood, gave the "State Convention Echoes," and other members also contributed interesting convention notes.

In Dire Peril.
There is a woman in Brookline whose nearsightedness brought on an odd situation the other day. While waiting for a car she noticed a man with what she supposed to be a cane, making his way slowly toward her in car tracks. Thinking that he was in danger of being run over, she hastened out and grasped him by the arm. Then she discovered that he was a switch tender.—Boston Record.

MINNESOTA CHARGES ARE WITHOUT BASIS

Students and Authorities at Madison Discredit Professionalism Charged on Members of Team.

Madison, Wis., Nov. 16.—No definite charges of professionalism having been lodged against either Moll, Tandberg or Hoefel of the Wisconsin football team, the Wisconsin students generally are inclined to discredit the existence of any basis for them. The presumption gathered from campus talk is that Minnesota indiscreetly picked out the four men named to excite suspicion of their regularity in retaliation for Wisconsin's challenging of the mighty Pickering, and with no definite evidence of professional scandal against them. Whatever be the truth of this theory, it finds ready acceptance in the Madison student body, which is greatly wrought up at this unexpected turn of events.

Records Defended.
The students say it is most absurd of all to include Hoefel in such a charge. Hoefel's only athletic activity, it is said, was on the Green Bay high school eleven and the Wisconsin squad. Mackiniller, according to the Wisconsin contention, rowed on the St. Paul Boat club's squad, one summer, but it is set up that no stronger amateur organization exists in the northwest than this rowing club, and it is recalled that the University of Wisconsin contested with them on Lake Mendota last spring. This is noted as in itself a guarantee of his amateur standing. Mackiniller, it is asserted, instead of receiving pay for his work with that crew, paid a fee of $30 to join it.

Tandberg last night declared the Minnesota intimation of his professionalism was absolutely false and absurd. Moll insisted his record is absolutely clean.

Preparations Made.
Camp Randall is covered with hay to protect the field from further freezing. The variety was pitted against the freshmen again last night on the freshmen field. Samp will probably start the game Saturday at Pollock's place at halfback, and with Tandberg and Gillette will compose the backfield.

Madison is beginning to take on a cardinal tinge in anticipation of the big game. The electric company will string 7,000 red lamps around the capitol square and down State street, and every street lamp in the business and students' sections will be in red.

A Student of Human Nature.
"That was a pretty harsh note Mr. Clincher sent you," "You" answered the duobonaire-debtor. "But he didn't mean most of it. He has just employed a new stenographer. When he dictated that letter he was showing off."

There Is Hope.
It remained for a lawyer to select the twenty-one most beautiful words in the English language and thereby win a prize. It may occasion some surprise to note that neither "fee" nor "retainer" appears in his list.

Are Dead Ones.
Red letter days now become, to all intents and purposes, dead-letter days.—Lamb.

U. S. Department of Agriculture
WEATHER BUREAU
WILLIS L. MOORE, Chief

WEATHER CONDITIONS.
The area of high atmospheric pressure that was over the Dakota yesterday has moved across the Mississippi valley to the Lake Region and Ohio valley. It was attended by a ten degree drop in temperature in parts of Wisconsin, Michigan and Kentucky. It is followed in the Rocky Mountain region by falling pressures and unsettled weather with light snows. This disturbance has two centers, one over the southern Rockies, the other over the Canadian northwest. The southwestern center will probably move across the Plains toward the upper Mississippi valley, and cause rain or snow and rising temperature in this vicinity tonight. Friday will be snowy.

THEATERS

SOUSA AND HIS BAND.
Sousa exercises the greatest care in the selection of his soloists, and the artists who will appear here when his band is heard at Myers Theater, on Saturday, Nov. 18, are Miss Virginia Clark, soprano, and Miss Neelene Zedeler, violinist, and Mr. Herbert Clark, a virtuoso on the cornet. Miss Root has a soprano voice of great finish and authority in a manner, and she is said to sing in a finished and authoritative manner.

It seems incredible that men should live in the tombs of their wives, yet there are several cases on record of men who have done this. Jonathan Reed, for instance, sat daily in a vault in Evergreen cemetery, New York, by the side of the coffin containing the remains of his wife.

TOO MUCH LEGISLATION.

That the country is suffering from an overdose of politics, and too much legislation, is apparent to the most casual observer. Money is plentiful, the crops were good and there is every reason why prosperity should continue, yet the feeling of uncertainty about what the law-makers will do when they convene next month, and the unrest occasioned by threatened and active litigation, stagnates business and demoralizes industries.

The pickers of the country are making the light of their lives for existence, in spite of the fact that next to the railroads they have done more to develop the west than all other agencies combined. The grievance against them, so far as the general public is concerned, is an intangible one, the grievance against the Standard Oil company.

The high cost of living is charged to everything but extravagance, and the pickers are one of the scapegoats. Leslie M. Shaw, in discussing the question of too much legislation, recently said:

"That congress should meet, clear off its calendar, make appropriations covering five years and then go home and stay there is the remedy suggested by Leslie M. Shaw, former secretary of the treasury, for preventing some of the ills of the government."

"The whole business future of the country depends upon what congress does or threatens to do," said Mr. Shaw today.

"In our more than a century and a quarter of history, no one ever walked the streets in vain for work, no man ever saw his wife and children hungry because of dishonesty in public office, because of late or early frosts, drought, floods, grasshoppers and earthquakes, but millions have suffered loss of employment—worse than any of the plagues in Egypt—because of the want of statesmanship at Washington, D. C."

WAUKESHA TO THE FORE.

"The pupils of the Union school at Waukesha have followed the example set by pupils of some of the Fond du Lac public schools, tackled the playgrounds proposition and worked it out successfully. It required some self-sacrifice and some hard work but it was worth while. As a result of the gathering together of pennies and nickels and the expenditure of much manual labor the playgrounds are now equipped and will be enjoyed in the coming months and years. And all this simply goes to show, that the playgrounds proposition is a growing proposition which every community must face sooner or later. "If a city had to choose between schools and play centers, it could, I believe, give up the schools more safely than it could go without the play centers," declared Clarence A. Perry of the Russell Sage Foundation, in an address delivered at Madison recently. And there is a growing belief that Mr. Perry is right. Play is an essential to moral and physical growth of a wholesome character as food and light. The play centers are practical and are good investments. It is a pity that the boys and girls must either provide them themselves or go without them."

This from the Fond du Lac Commonwealth shows that the playground proposition is receiving attention in our own state. If the little city of Waukesha can afford a pleasure resort of this kind, Jamesville can certainly do as well. All that is required is somebody to start the movement. The Gazette invites favorable discussion.

A SAFE PROPOSITION.

The following letter was recently sent to Printers Ink by a Kansas City firm. It looks like a safe proposition.

Dear Friend:

Knowing that you have had some interest in the fur business, I take the liberty of presenting you with what seems to me a most wonderful business proposition, and in which, no doubt, you will take a lively interest, and, perhaps, will see the amount of stock that you wish to subscribe toward the formation of this company.

The object of this company is to operate a large Cat Ranch, in or near Oakland, where land can be purchased cheap for this purpose.

To start in with, we will collect about, say one hundred thousand (100,000) cats. Each cat will average twelve (12) kittens a year. The skins run from ten cents (10c) each for white ones, to seventy-five cents (75c) for the pure black. This will give us twelve million (12,000,000) skins a year, to sell at an average of thirty cents (30c) apiece, making our revenue about ten thousand dollars ($10,000) a day, gross.

A man can skin 50 cats per day for two dollars ($2.00). It will take 100 men to operate the ranch, the net profit will therefore be about nine thousand eight hundred dollars ($9,800) a day.

We will feed the cats on rats, and will start a rat ranch next door. The rats will multiply four times as fast as cats. If we start with one million rats, we will have, therefore, four rats per day for each cat, which is plenty.

Now, then, we will feed the rats on the carcasses of the cats, from which the skins have been taken, giving each rat a fourth of a cat.

It will thus be seen that the business will be self-supporting and automatic all the way through. The cats will eat the rats and the rats will eat the cats, and we get the skins.

Awaiting your prompt reply, and trusting that you appreciate the opportunity that I give you and which will get you rich quick, I remain, Casey Jones.

Drastic laws have driven the International Harvester company out of Kentucky. The reformer is having his day, and many states are suffering from an emetic of overactivity. What Kentucky loses in this case, Indiana gains, as the Harvester company moved across the river, over the state line. The state of Iowa drove out her industries in the same way, and the commonwealth has never recovered.

A Methodist pastor in Rock Island has resigned to take up journalism. The call to preach wasn't loud enough to hold him, with a salary attachment not conspicuous for size. Forty Presbyterian clergymen, in session at Des Moines, Iowa, recently voted that salaries must be raised. The pulpit is not exempt from labor troubles.

The Rev. Richardson of Cambridge, accused of murder, is having a hard time resigning from his pastorate. His flock seem determined to give him the benefit of the doubt, until his trial occurs. For the sake of the cause, as well as for the man himself, it is to be hoped that he will be found innocent.

The McNamara trial is not likely to begin before Christmas. The intelligence of the average westerner is a bar to securing a non-partisan jury. The average Californian can read and write, and is usually guilty of having an opinion.

Morton county, North Dakota, is to lose 4,000 Turkish farmers, who have decided to go back to their mother land and aid their countrymen in the battles with Italy. Patriotism is world-wide.

He Missed Them.

Two-year-old Harry had never seen a live lamb, his only knowledge of that animal being derived from a toy one on wheels. While visiting grandpa on the farm he was taken to the sheep pen to see the lambs. After looking at them for a few minutes he looked up at grandpa with a puzzled expression and asked: "Where's the wheels?"—From the Delineator.

Weight of a Cubic Foot of Gold.

A cubic foot of trinket gold weighs 15,709 ounces; the same quantity of coin gold weighs 17,047 ounces; of pure gold (cast) 19,258 ounces; of hammered gold 19,310 ounces. The diamond is the hardest known mineral. It is, however, brittle.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT.

THE FALL HOUSE CLEANING.

The beds are piled up in the barn and a sleep in the sink.

Us kids sleep in the bath tub, which is please-ant. I don't think.

The kitchen range is inside out, the carpets up-side down.

We've got the finest looking house, I guess in this man's town.

For 'most a week our pa and ma ain't said a pleasant word.

I shouldn't be surprised at all if a divorce occurred.

Pa says it is a doggone shame and makes him mighty sore.

It seems to him the old dum house was clean enough before.

We're campin' out and eatin' all our meals now standin' up.

It's been a week since we have had a real clean knife or cup.

Pa says what is the doggone use of dighin' in like sin.

When, in a week, the house will be all dirtied up ag'in?

Us kids get licked three times a day if we need it or not.

It's dangerous to stand around in almost any spot.

The hired girl resigned her job when ma had just begun.

Housecleanin' is hygienic, but it sure ain't no fun.

LIFE INSURANCE A LA MODE.

Endowment Life Insurance Co., New York, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—In reply to about 10 per cent of your questions as to our fitness to become a late deceased under your auspices, we would say:

Our great grandfather did NOT die of the whooping cough. We are under the impression that it was the croup.

We have a full set of teeth. They don't fit, but the mail order house from which we purchased them promises to rectify the mistake.

We do not drive a buzz wagon, work in a powder magazine or monkey around where there is any poison ivy.

We have never received an inferior machine, excepting once when a friend sent us a second hand potato bug sprayer. We do not make impertinent remarks to policemen or make faces at the janitor of our flat.

We have never died before, therefore we cannot answer your questions as to how many times we have died, what we have died of and whether it is a hereditary or an acquired habit.

We have never suffered from spavin, distemper, pty, ringbone or spring halt. We do not practice on the corner or sing in public, so from the viewpoint of violence, we are a fairly good risk.

We do not experiment with gasoline stoves, take patent medicines, and, like Webster's unabridged dictionary, we still have an appendix.

We never try to vote the prohibition ticket in the sixth ward, and we never carry a gun that isn't loaded. Hoping we have all of the qualifications necessary, we remain, Sincerely yours,

FROM THE HICKORYVILLE CLARION.

Elmer Jones says the last time he went to call on Miss Amy Frisby, our popular milliner, her father, Deacon Stubbs, threw something hard and round and hard a thing. Hank Purdy says maybe it was a jar-dinner. Elmer says that sounds as though it might be it, for it jarred him in the ear, all right.

Uncle Ezra Perkins, who is one of the oldest fellows in our midst, says he used to have a lot of warm friends around here, and if they all went where he thinks they did, they are still warm.

Last time Eli Stack was in Chicago, he saw a mounted policeman and Hod Peters says that's what they all ought to be—stuffed and mounted. Hod had a piece of hard luck down to the Rapids last time and didn't get home for thirty days.

Rushrod Bibbins complains of hard times and says if he should run his mouth tetter through a planola now, it would play a lively tune.

Uncle Ez Perkins is so long and thin that he can't eat nothing but spaghetti.

Anso Frisby says the next time he goes down to the city, he is going to a hotel to eat some of them tattle de butte he has heard so much about and says, just as like not, he won't know whether to eat 'em with a fork or a spoon.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

THE CIGARETTE SMOKER.

Do you smoke cigarettes?

If you do you need not read this talk, because you will not believe what I say, though I am not a crank.

Cigarettes are poison.

I say this not of myself. It is a chemical fact that the burning of tobacco and paper, together with saliva, distills a subtle poison that in time will undermine and wreck the strongest constitution.

You do not believe it?

Then it is because you do not want to believe. The results of cigarette smoking have been as carefully noted as of typhoid fever. The rate of its progress is as well attested, from its inception on through its different stages, as that of any other slow poison.

It saps manhood.

And, besides its effect upon the body, which it tends to make inert and limp and ineffectual, there is its effect upon the mind.

The cigarette smoker is a paranoiac.

That is to say, he is demented in so far as his mind is concerned. He entertains delusions concerning his habit.

The poison muddles the brain.

It is to be admitted that some persons are able to withstand the effect of cigarette poison longer than others. And some nations, being more phlegmatic, are less susceptible than others. A Russian, for instance, with his sluggish nature will be poisoned more slowly than the American.

Cigarettes ruin American nerves.

Our nervous temperaments and our climate forbid the use of artificial stimulants. We are so fashioned that all our nervous force must be used to drive our bodies and brains. We are so finely tempered that stimulants serve only to excite.

Artificial stimulants take the spring and snap out of the American temper.

We go to pieces rapidly enough without foreign.

And now—

If you smoke cigarettes I have said nothing that will change your opinion. You either do not believe the deductions of science or you fancy you are immune.

Which is proof of my contention. You are deluded by the habit.

Stormy Weather For Pa.

"Why, ma, where are you going in such a hurry?"

"To your pa's office," replied Mrs. Allrocks.

"I just tried calling him up by telephone and heard him tell the office boy to say he was too busy to talk to me. I'll show him what I let him have a telephone in his office for."

What Could Be More Lucid?

One of the sentences used by the writer of a note one recent Saturday regarding a sermon by Dr. Spangler is incorrect. The sentence in its additional part should either have been disconnected or else a subordinate conjunction used instead of a coordinate one in order to connect the modifying part to the principal or modified part.—Readingville Correspondence, Lewistown (Pa.) ### Say "Wilbur's" and Be Safe Chocolate-hunger is a natural appetite that is more often cloyed than satisfied. Ordinary chocolate, which is sugar-laden, is the cloying kind. "Wilbur's" stands for the other kind—the meltingly smooth, healthfully satisfying, foil-wrapped forms which are so shamelessly imitated—

REASONS WHY

You should invest your surplus money in MORTGAGE LOANS and not in bond issues.
Millions of dollars in bonds have been repudiated.
Interest rates are too low for you to invest in bond issues.
Too much time is required to investigate the legality of bond issues.
In case of default on municipal bonds years are required to recover judgment.
If you are a citizen of the community you help to pay your own security.
If you buy a mortgage loan you own the property on one only condition—that the debt is paid when due.
In case of default you get your security in a short space of time, without further expense to you.
In case of mortgage loan the investment is direct and simple and is subject to your control.

BRAKEMAN STRUCK BY REFRIGERATOR DOORS ON PASSING FREIGHT

Edward T. Keys, Employed by Northwestern, Seriously Injured at Milton Junction This Morning.

Edward T. Keys, a Chicago & Northwestern brakeman, was struck by the refrigerator doors on one of the cars near Milton Junction about 9:30 this morning and received very serious injuries.

Keys is a resident of the town of Plymouth and was running on one of the numerous extras that are being placed in service on the Northern Wisconsin division. He was in the engine on the Milwaukee and was about to step from the cab when the doors on the refrigerator car on the second section of 318, which was passing at the head rate of speed, struck him on the head and threw him to the ground. He was knocked unconscious by the force of the blow he received and when picked up by fellow trainmen, was lying between the two tracks, having been thrown a considerable distance. He regained partial consciousness, but was in a semi-conscious condition and muttered incoherently all the way to Janesville where he was given medical aid.

The crew on the extra immediately wired Janesville and instructed the telegrapher here to get a physician as soon as possible and an ambulance enroute. With a caboose brought the injured man here and he was hurried to Mercy hospital.

Dr. J. E. Woods, who made an examination of the condition of Mr. Keys at the station, stated that he had received a severe shaking up and a concussion on the back of his skull. It is also possible he is internally injured. He is now resting as well as can be expected and it is expected that he will recover in a short time, if no other complications set in.

Mr. Keys is a young man, twenty-one years of age, and is well known among the railroad men of this section. He has been in the employ of the road for some time.

SHIPMENT OF HIGH GRADE STOCK TODAY

Mr. John Troup, From Far West, Purchases Horses and Cattle in This Vicinity.

An annual visitor to Rock county is John Troup of California, coming here for the purpose of buying high class registered live stock. This year he is taking to the coast state a shipment of no less than five car loads, four of cattle and one of horses, the latter being sent forward today by express.

This shipment has been selected with the assistance of Meloy Brothers, and most of the horses are Clydesdales purchased from them, or are horses that have been bred by them, one of the latter being a very fine one purchased from Dr. Little of this city. He has also secured about two car loads of Shorthorns from Meloy Brothers, the rest of the shipment being made up of various breeds at Lake Delavan, those being for Mr. Ripley, president of the Santa Fe railroad, who has a beautiful farm and winter home at Santa Barbara. The carriage charges alone on this valuable shipment amount to about $1000. Mr. Troup on this trip has visited various sections of Illinois but says he likes this section of the country the better, and can get stock here to suit him to better advantage.

CITY OWNERSHIP IS MANAGEMENT PROBLEM

DEBATORS AT MEN'S CLUB OF THE BAPTIST CHURCH AGREE AS TO VITAL ISSUE.

MAYOR'S CASE STRONG

Makes Able Presentation of Affirmative Side—Attorney Oestreich Meets Arguments—Other Speakers.

That the advisability of the city of Janesville acquiring and operating the local waterworks system resolves itself into the last analysis into a question of securing efficient management was one point on which all the speakers on the water works question at the Baptist Men's Club last evening were unanimously agreed; as to the other questions raised there was clearly defined dissent. The arguments on each side were fully presented, Mayor Nichols advocating municipal ownership, and Atty. O. E. Oestreich, E. C. Bailey and Atty. W. H. Dougherty taking the negative. Atty. Herbert Cunningham was to have assisted Mayor Nichols but had been called out of the city on business.

After a substantial and well prepared dinner had been served to the sixty or more present by the ladies of the helpful Mrs. John Nichols, the first speaker, referring to him as the original municipal ownership man in Janesville, Mayor Nichols, after a few remarks indicating his conception of his office and the duties it imposed upon him, launched into his presentation of the arguments for municipal ownership of the Janesville water works.

"The main argument for municipal ownership," said the mayor, "is that if a private corporation can operate a water supply system and make a good profit on its investment, the city should be able to do the same."

"I do not believe that the city should be sold for profit, or that the Almighty ever intended that it should be made a source of gain. But under private ownership we can not avoid this. The Janesville Water Company has the legal right to make all it can out of its investment and is able to do so because in the very nature of things it can have no restricting competition. The people have to come to them to get water."

"I am in favor of municipal ownership because I believe that the city can operate the water plant so as to pay interest on bonds, provide a sinking fund, a fund for reproduction of the plant, and a net profit on the investment."

In support of this conviction Mayor Nichols quoted at length from statistics and communications from city officials in several municipalities which owned their water supply systems. He showed that out of the fifty largest cities in the country twenty had at various times owned their water works, twenty had acquired them since, and that only ten were still privately owned. The city of La Crosse, he showed, from data in his possession, pumped three and a half times as much water as Janesville, maintained a plant two and a half times as large, and that its cost of operating the plant was $12,000, compared with the $14,000 per annum cost of operating the Janesville water plant. La Crosse furnishes free water for her schools, fire stations, city hall, fueling sewers, and 518 fire tops. A letter from the president of the La Crosse council telling of the success of their municipal plant and one from the Oakbrook city clerk, relating their dissatisfaction with private ownership, were also read.

A number of passages from the report of the speaker and throw considerable light on the management of the local water company. Since 1890 the Janesville Water Company has had an income ranging from five to eight per cent, but the excessive salaries paid its officers had obscured the actual income. The commission declared that it was extremely difficult to compare the cost of operation of the Janesville plant with other private plants of approximate size for the reason that most of them were under the same general management.

That the municipality can borrow money at a smaller rate of interest than a private corporation, and need not pay dividends on stock were among the arguments advanced by the mayor. The failures in municipal ownership could all be attributed to the introduction of politics into the management, and that the form of government had no bearing upon the question of success or failure. Inefficiency in management can easily be discovered in municipally owned plants, but private corporations could obscure that fact. In this connection he referred to the salaries of the local water works officials and declared that it was his opinion that the greater part of the $7,700 expended for that purpose could be saved under city control. Counting the time of the president and secretary of the board at $25 a day they would have to work ninety-six days in the year to earn their salaries, and he was positive that they did not give that much time to the work.

Under municipal ownership the water works would be under the control of a board of public works of the council or a commission composed of three citizens elected by popular vote and an alderman appointed by the mayor. The speaker saw no reason why such a board could not be as efficient in management as the school and library boards. He related that a member of the rate commission had told him that the city should be able to pay for the waterworks in twelve years, and it should not balk at the proposition if it took twenty.

Because of the absence of Attorney Cunningham, Leader Nolan thought his office should be filled and called on Atty. W. H. Dougherty. The latter spoke briefly. He expressed the opinion that the movement for municipal ownership of the water works was premature, that regulation by the rate commission had not yet been given a thorough trial. The city should not buy the plant unless it was sure of turning the investment to its profit; no other consideration should govern its action. He expressed skepticism at the reports from officials in cities operating their water works for the reason that they could not be other than biased.

"Sentimental reasons, however, are hardly the question, when municipal ownership of public utilities is considered," said Atty. O. E. Oestreich, the upholder of the present regime in water works ownership.

"It is purely a business proposition. Reports from cities that operate their water works are of no value to us unless we know all the circumstances and conditions relative to the results obtained. Bias in the reports can not be neglected; the management of a public plant want to keep their positions and will give the best report of their stewardship possible."

As an example of the failure of municipal ownership, the speaker referred to the Madison system which he declared had been losing money and had recently applied to the rate commission for permission to raise the rates paid by the private consumer. When the commission asked that the city pay for the water it used, the recommendation was turned down and the motion withdrawn. The reason that so many municipal plants made a good showing was that they did not make any provision for depreciation and replacement of the plant when worn out. Madison's experience was an example of this kind of management.

The high salaries of the local water company's officers, said Mr. Oestreich, affected only the stockholders of the corporation, and had been disposed of by the decision of the railroad commission. The stockholders were practically limited to the officers of the company.

"In the end the solution of our water works difficulties will lie in effective regulation by the rate commission and not in municipal ownership. To be logical there is no reason why we should stop with municipal ownership of water works and not take over the gas and electric plants as well. Is it good policy for the city to buy something it knows nothing about? Do we wish to become involved in difficulties like Multnomah, where the private company refused to sell at the rate commission's valuation? Buying an existing plant is entirely different from building one."

"The history of Janesville's experience with municipal enterprises is not such as would give us any reason to expect successful operation of a water works system. A city that can not manage a sewage crusher successfully can not have been financially better off if it had the water works company of the Northwestern railway at its street work. In the last eleven years $200,000 has been expended in repairing and improving our streets and what do we have to show for it? Whenever we have any public work in Janesville we seem to always wait until it freezes up before we start. I am confident that if the city did nothing but maintain order and enforce the police laws and turn its business matters over to some private concern it would be better off. The city's water supply, according to the report of the commission, outside of the high salaries, is very economically managed and I am sure Janesville can not do it for less."

Atty. Oestreich took exception to the statement of Mayor Nichols that public utilities were corrupters of politics and said that it did not apply locally.

E. C. Bailey discussed municipal water works from the standpoint of a business man. He said that in all probability the city would have to pay in addition to the actual value of the water works a large amount of good will or going value. The man who conducted the plant during the years it did not pay would want compensation for putting the business on its feet. The city never is able to buy its supplies and hire its labor as economically as a private corporation. Janesville also should be careful not to bring its debt too near the legal limit, otherwise the interest rates on its bonds would go up.

Mayor Nichols came back with a spirited rebuttal to the arguments and statements of the negative. He defended the present street commissioner and his work, declaring it the most economical and efficient the city ever had. The city would not buy a cent in a bag by purchasing the water works, for the commissioner's valuation could be rolled upon and would certainly be fair to the city. He had the testimony of one of its commissioners that a plant twenty years old was better than a new one for the reason that all defects would have been eliminated from the system. In that time, water works indebtedness would not subject the city to legal restrictions on the council, nor would it be a burden on the municipal indebtedness. If Janesville could not muster up four men competent to manage a small water works system it might as well give up all hopes of growth and progress.

Atty. P. C. Burpee and the Rev. J. C. Hazen were called upon and responded with short talks on the question, as did also J. F. Taylor.

At the request of Mayor Nichols a riding vote was taken on municipal ownership. Perhaps not more than half those present voted but a majority was given for the affirmative.

Her judgment in what was needed was infallible and to her was left the final decision.

Checks are Given.
Mr. Beach, of the county board committee, carried with him a check book and a power to draw on the banks for the entire sum that has been raised by the Gazette relief fund during the past several days. At every home at which there was need for a little ready money he met the condition with a check. Many a smile was drawn from a wan and discouraged face by the sight of a check for a small sum. A total of nearly five hundred dollars was distributed during the trip and was perhaps one of the best features of the entire day. Just a little money seemed to be all that was needed to bring the jaws of the men up a little tighter and to kindle a light of hope in their eyes.

The committee yesterday covered a third of the territory that will have to be visited and gave away about two-thirds of the goods that had been donated. There is a pressing need for more bedding. More shoes and stockings and a larger supply of underwear.

Water in Ancient Times.
Over 4,000 years ago an elaborate system of filtration was established by the Egyptians to purify the waters of the Nile. In both Rome and Athens hot water was drunk in preference to cold by the small minority who used water for drinking purposes. Chamber, writing in 1660, notes that the habit of drinking hot water was spreading among all classes in France. "Some warm it by holding over the fire; others dip burning bread into it. Rich people plunge a bar of hot gold into their water before drinking it, and the less wealthy a bar of hot iron, while the very poor are content to warm their drink with a live coal."

Taking the Census in England.
In England a census is taken every seven years. In the United States the work costs some $5,000,000; in England, with a population of 42,000,000, the work is done by the regular public officials, without extra cost.

There the census is taken on a certain day at a certain hour, usually Saturday at 11 p. m., because most people are then at home. Printed circulars have been sent by the police to every family and to the owners of all lodgings and hotels. These circulars contain blanks, which must be filled.

The Discriminating Auditor.
"Men don't go out between the nets as much as they used to," said the matinee girl. "No," replied the old playgoer; "the average show now days makes it unwise to do so. The music by the orchestra is likely to be the best part of the performance."

Fatal Quick Lunches.
The leading physicians of Chicago declare that half the cases of suicide in that city are due to the quick-lunch habit.—Illustrated Sunday Magazine.

Devotion Extraordinary.

The Grand St. Bernard is one of the most desolate spots that the mind can conceive. Wild, rocky, bare, it seems too desolate for living things to inhabit. Yet here a handful of devoted men live cheerfully, giving up everything, health, pleasure, family ties, all that men hold dear, that they may save others from perishing.—Our Animal Brothers.

In This Land of Possibilities.

Joseph Mardus came to this country from the north of Europe, worked eight years for $6 a week, married when it was raised to $9, and four years later departed for "home" with his family and a draft for $2,000 on a foreign bank, thenceforth to lead a country gentleman's life.—World's Work.

Have a Purpose.
It is not enough to be industrious; so are ants. What are you industrious about?—Thoreau.

Pretty Miss Jones—"As I play an old lady in this piece I shall have to have wrinkles painted round my eyes, cheeks and mouth." Brown—"Ah, they will be lines cast in pleasant places."

The Pea Long Known to Man.
From its original home as a native, wild growth in western Asia and adjacent Europe the cultivated pea has been taken by man to all civilized countries. It has been cultivated for thousands of years, for dried peas have been found in Egyptian tombs.

Have a Purpose.
It is not enough to be industrious; so are ants. What are you industrious about?—Thoreau.

RELIEF FUND LIST GROWS VERY SLOWLY

JAMESVILLE HAS THUS FAR
RAISED NEARLY TWO THOU-SAND DOLLARS FOR AID OF SUFFERERS.

MUCH MONEY NEEDED

Deloit, Clinton And Other Nearby
Cities Also Have Lists In Circulation.

Today's receipts for the cyclone relief fund now total nearly two hundred and seventy-five dollars. The total figures will reach something in the neighborhood of eighteen hundred to two thousand dollars by noon tomorrow. There is still much need for money and the county committee named by the county board will have plans for every cent obtained.

Deloit and Clinton are also rushing money to be turned over to the same board so that it is probable that they will have at least three thousand dollars to begin actual work or when the persons needing aid have all been listed.

The money received thus far at the Gazette is as follows:

MARKET DECIDEDLY MIXED AT OPENING

Leigh Valley Opens Weak But Regains Loss—Union Pacific Strong.
And Advances a Point.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

New York, Nov. 16.—The stock market today at the opening was decidedly mixed. Leigh Valley was extremely weak, but regained its loss after the first few minutes of trading. Union Pacific was strong, advancing a point.

LIVE STOCK MARKET WAS SLOW AND DULL

Thursday's Market Was Not Very Promising for Cattle and Hog Offerings.
(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Chicago, Nov. 16.—The condition of the live stock market this morning was not very promising as the demand for both cattle and hogs was slow and sluggish, with declines noted among many of the offerings. The

Prof. A. C. Baer of Department of Agriculture Will Conduct School
(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE)
Brodhead, Nov. 16.—A one-week
farmers' school under the direction of Prof. A. C. Baer of the University of Wisconsin, will open in High School building in Brodhead on December 4th and continue up to and including the 15th. Dairying, alfalfa and other subjects will be taught. A large attendance is expected and desired.
Miscellaneous Shower.
On Monday afternoon Misses Anna
M. Young and Lillie Pocht gave a miscellaneous shower at the home of the former for Miss Violet Rederick and it was a merry time. Refreshments of sherbet and wafers were served and the time passed quickly.

Lecture.
Harry Dea Brown of Milwaukee will give a lecture here soon in the interest of the Anti-Tuberculosis society.

CLINTON

Clinton, Nov. 16.—O. Bowen of Jamesville, who was little else speaking here Tuesday evening and told the people how they could throw their bibles in the ash barrel, did not receive much encouragement and did not have the hall opened.
Miss Olive Cory attended a very fine musical recital in Milwaukee Monday noon, returning home yesterday afternoon.
P. P. Babcock spent Saturday and Sunday in Chicago as the guest of
Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Mettine.
Mrs. A. S. Parker entertained at a six o'clock dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. H. Newman of Chicago, who returned to her home yesterday afternoon.
The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Simmons is very ill.
John Sours of the Bowman Dairy Company returned Monday from a ten days' trip and vacation.
N. R. Buckley and son, Glen were in Jamesville yesterday.

FAMOUS AMERICAN INDIANS ALBERT PAYSON TERNHUNE

MOSES.

A huge chief, dressed like a frontier dandy, and bearing a startling resemblance to Henry Ward Beecher, was one of the foremost Indians of the great Northwest not many years ago. He kept the government knowing, worried the settlers and managed to win important favors from both.
Some historians say he was a worthy and noble man. Others describe him
as one of the cleverest, most consum-mate hypocrites unhung. He was one of the few Indians who understood "grafting" as thoroughly as does any ward politician and who was by nature a money maker as well as a warrior. Again, unlike most of his people, he was a humorist and a mimic.

A Warlike Career.

His Indian name was Sukinah-Kosha ("Half Sun"), but the white men nicknamed him "Moses," and the nickname stuck. He was war chief of the Old-man-Ne tribe (a branch of the Nez Percés "nation") and was later chosen chief of many other warrior bands. In early years Moses led his braves through a series of bloody wars against the Sioux and won for himself local fame as a fearless soldier as well as for almost unpermanence cunning. In 1858, when the wave of white emigration was rolling rapidly westward, Moses did his best to beat back the tide of civilization. With his savage forces he met a detachment of troops under
Gen. George Wright in a fierce battle at the Yakima River. This was one of the deadliest combats ever waged between white men and savages.

It was after the Yakima River battle that Moses's whole character seemed to change. He saw clearly that the Indians could make no headway against the government; that the old free warlike days were at an end.
Some native chiefs continued to wage hopeless campaigns against the troops and soon or late were killed, driven far from their homes or caught. Other chiefs meekly consented to lead their tribes to one of the reservations and there to lose power and freedom as
"wards of the government."

Neither of these two courses appealed to Moses's taste. He set his wily brain to work at finding some pleasant means of solving the Indian problem. And soon his plans were made. He declared himself the friend of the local Indian agent and asked only to be allowed to settle down with his people to a quiet life of hunting and farming. He let it be known that he and his tribes were more than ready to meet Uncle Sam
half way on any reasonable proposition. His sense of humor and his powers as a comic actor helped to do away with suspicions that such a brain harbored plots of a serious nature.

It was hard to treat a man of this sort in the stern fashion accorded to "hostiles." Yet the government did not care to have the chief and his great following at large as a possible menace to settlers. So he was told to move with his people to the Yakima Reservation. Moses answered that he would be very glad indeed to go on a reservation, but that the one selected for him was already full of savages who would not treat him well. So he begged to be allowed to settle upon a Columbia River tract that was of no use to white men but would make a fine home for his followers. There, he said, he and the braves would raise vegetables, grain,
etc., and be model farmers.

This rural plot so delighted the government that his request was at last actually granted. Instead of being packed off to some already crowded reservation, he was allowed to settle on the rich tract of Columbia River land. There he promptly made a more comfortable living by renting out the prairie pastures (on which he had told the authorities he wanted to raise crops). By this means alone he yearly pocketed a rich sum. And there were other means of the same sort whereby he was able to make goodly quantities of money. Thus he spent his declining days, honored and trusted by the government.

A Clever Escape.

But before he succeeded in bending
Uncle Sam so skillfully to his wishes,
there were one or two times when Moses needed all his ready wit to save his life. For instance, when Chief Joseph of the Nez Percés began his terrible war against the government, Moses (perhaps foreseeing the result of the conflict) loudly refused to let his people join their relatives, the Nez Percés. Yet rumors soon arose that he and braves of his were waging secret war on white settlers.
Moses indignantly denied this, and succeeded in convincing the agents that he was innocent. Then an entire white family named Perkins on the Columbia River were murdered and their house and barns burned. "Friendly" Indians accused Moses and his men. Again Moses denied the charge and even offered to help find the slayers. But public opinion was for once too strong for him. He was arrested, put in irons and imprisoned at Yakima City. Gen. Howard, Agent Wilbur and other officials who believed in Moses, were hastily summoned and had the old chief set free. Then, by a final diplomatic stroke, he secured
the special reservation he had so long wanted, and retired to a life of ease and profit.

BANKERS LIFE GOES TO LEVEL PREMIUM BASIS

ASSESSMENT ASSOCIATION DE-CIDES TO ISSUE FIXED PREMIUM POLICY.

EIGHTEEN MILLION DOLLARS IN ASSETS

All Existing Contracts Will Be Carried Out to the Very Letter.

The Bankers Life association of Des Moines has decided to go to level premium basis, and hereafter, while carrying out every existing contract to the letter, it will issue only policies with a fixed premium, having guaranteed surrender values with ample reserves, and it will come leading assessment certificates.

Rates of insurance to the holders of existing assessment certificates will not be increased by the issuance hereafter of the new form of policy by the company.

The Bankers Life is many times the largest life insurance company in the whole western country; it has more than $174,000,000 of insurance in force and its ledger assets on its last statement, July 1, 1911, amounted to more than $17,566,940.

That the company had been planning to write the new level premium policy has been known in insurance and financial circles for some time. It has been a matter of discussion and yesterday the directors at a meeting at the company's office adopted resolutions amending the articles to effect the purpose. Later Auditor of State Monthly approved of the plan
in detail.

Company's Announcement.

In a letter sent out to the bankers
of the state respecting the new policy
the company says:

Dear Sir: The Bankers Life of Des Moines was organized by Edward A.
Temple, a banker, with the help of a number of men engaged in the same business, more than thirty-two years ago. Its business has grown and prospered by the aid of bankers, until it has now nearly $500,000,000 of insurance
in force.

Your customers who are insured in the association will no doubt call upon you for information and perhaps for advice in regard to it.

There has been in recent years,
notably since the New York investigation of 1905, many changes in insurance laws in nearly all the states. The level premium companies have been obliged to re-write their policy forms,
and to make their terms more favorable to the insured. The tendency of legislation during this period has been distinctly unfavorable to life insurance on the assessment plan. About a dozen states have by statute forbidden
the organization of companies on that plan, or the admission of companies when organized in other states. In several states this association is now doing business rather by the favor of the insurance departments than by provision of law. One state last winter passed a law which will probably lead to our exclusion at the end of this year. The laws in regard to fraternal insurance, passed last winter in twelve states at the instigation of the insurance departments, will lead the increased rates, and tend to discourage all insurance on the assessment basis.

In view of these facts, it seems wise
to put the Bankers Life to the front,
and not wait to be forced into action.
It will therefore hereafter issue only policies with a fixed premium, having guaranteed surrender value, with ample reserve and surrender values upon which dividends may be hereafter declared, and will cease to issue assessment certificates. While no more assessment contracts will be issued, it must be distinctly understood that all such contracts now on its books will be carried out by the Bankers Life in strict accordance with their terms.

It is in good financial condition, has a splendid army of members, and a low death rate. It has thrifty and economical habits and training, and a pocketful of money. It will continue its present members on the present
basis as a part of a strong and growing concern without putting them in a class by themselves or placing them upon their policies, or in any way injuring them. It will preserve the reserve funds accumulated from their contributions for their own benefit.

When they understand that the selling of new insurance at a fixed price will tend to strengthen rather than to weaken the association, they will be in shape to resist the onslaught of the agents of competing companies
and stand by the old flag.

There will be no change in the relations existing between the association and your bank. We are writing new policies to you, that is, the insurance which your friends and customers have taken in the Bankers Life is safe and secure, and that it will continue to be so to the end.

It must always remain a mutual company in which all the funds belong to the members, and their interest must also be considered. You may be sure that the directors would propose no change which did not seem important, if not essential to the perpetuity of the Bankers Life.

You will not have to apologize for commending the association to your customers, or take back anything you have said. It is strong and prosperous, and has dealt honestly with its members, and will devote every energy to their interest.

We rely upon you to aid in protecting them from the raids that will be made upon them by the agents of competing companies.

Very truly yours,

The Bankers Life Association.

to direct the large tide of immigration into the various states so as to mini-

from foreign lands to settle in the largest cities is the problem up for discussion at a conference begun
today by federal and state im-

Stop That Cough in a Minute

Would you give morphine or chloroform to your baby or take it yourself?
Of course not. Yet most patent cough cures contain one or both.
They stop a cough in a minute, which is dangerous. A cough should be cured internally by healing the lungs,
loosening the phlegm, throwing it out,
which is done by coughing. Badger Cough Balsam does not contain morphine or chloroform. It is made by perspiration from bloodroot, lobelia, pine bark, wild cherry, etc. It cures
a cough in a few days without filling the lungs with poisonous phlegm. The irritation is relieved, the lungs healed without danger of pneumonia. It's safe for children or old people. Get a

RISE OF RAIL CHIEFS

MOST OF THEM FOUGHT THEIR WAY TO TOP.

College and Telegraph Key and Wood Yard and Grading Camp All Shared in Making Railroad Presidents.

If it is true that there is no royal road to learning it is equally true that there is no royal road to the presidency of a railway system. The men now at the head of the railways of the United States began their careers in many ways. Even the old adage that no one can begin at the top has been broken. College and telegraph key and wood yard and grading camp and influence have all shared in the making of railway presidents. Some began poor and illiterate, others had millions and accomplishments. There appears to be no sure method for the beginner, who wishes to become a president.

Only two things have the railway presidents had in common. These were earnestness and brains. They were earnest and they had capacity. The telegraph key has had something to do with the rise of more railway magnates than any other influence. Milton H. Smith of the Louisville and Nashville, Albert J. Earling of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul, Marvin Hughitt and William A. Gardner of the Chicago and North-western, and William C. Coker of the Pere Marquette began as operators. W. C. Brown of the New York Central and E. H. Thomas of the Lohr Valley, both of whom began in the fuel yard, got their start by learning the key. Alexander J. Cassatt, deceased, of the Pennsylvania, F. A. Delano of the Wabash, Julius Kruttschnitt of the Union Pacific, and Theodore P. Shonts owe their start to the college engineering course. Judge Robert S. Lovett of the Union Pacific began as a track employee, but owes his present position to his study of law. Edwin Hawley, the magnate, began as a messenger boy, but advanced as a speculator. James J. Hill was a steamboatman until he bought a railroad for himself.

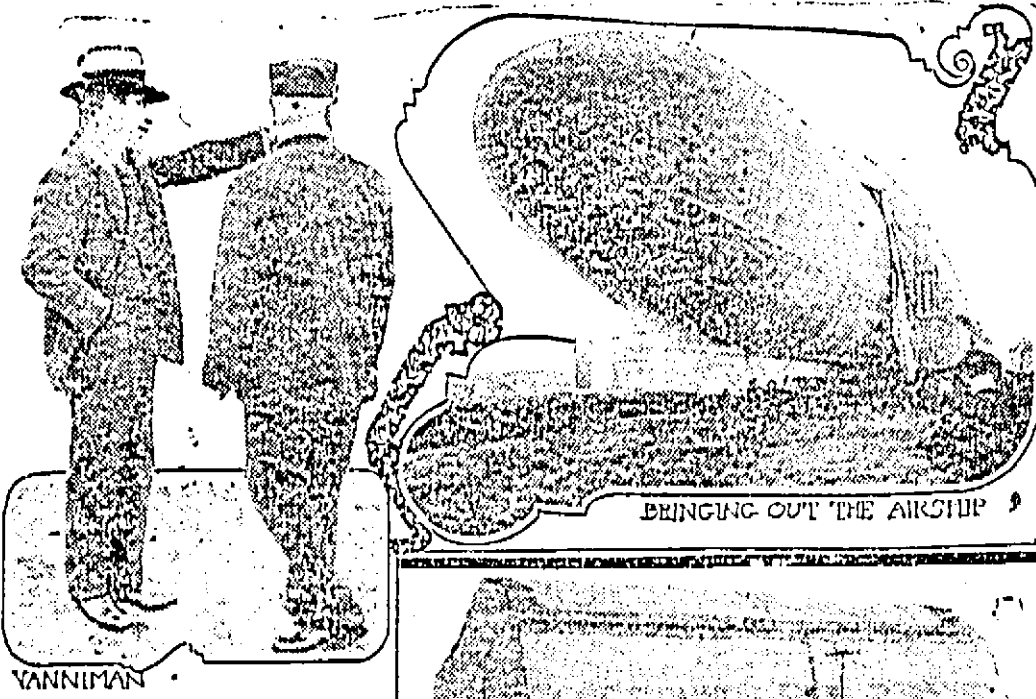

Began His Ascent to the Presidency of the New York Central by Chopping and Stacking Wood for the Old Wood-Burning Locomotives.

Only a few of the railway presidents planned a railway career for themselves. In most cases they entered railroading only accidentally. The telegraph played so great a part with the magnates of the present generation because of the date of its invention. The new electrical communication, at last made practical by Morse, created a profound interest. When the period of skeptical doubt was passed the telegraph was accepted as marking a broad step in advance. Bright young men everywhere saw its possibilities. They were eager to learn the new business, for it promised a good livelihood in an uncrowded field.

In several instances well known railroaders made successes in life in other fields before they came to the railway. Shonts was a contractor, Lovett a judge, and Hill a merchant.

Two presidents whose careers represent the absolute opposite are W. C. Brown of the New York Central and George J. Gould of the Missouri Pacific and other Gould properties. Brown began his railroading by chopping and stacking wood for the old wood-burning locomotives. Gould was born into railroading with a "silver throttle" in his hand. Brown had no education at all. Gould was trained from the start for the railway presidency to succeed his father when the latter should be too old to control. Brown was sixteen years of age when he began his railroading, in a wood-yard of the Chicago, Minneapolis & St. Paul. The rough work brought him in contact with railway life. He saw the advantage of the telegraph. He picked up a knowledge of the instrument. Within a year he was an operator. In two years he was a night dispatcher. In 1890 he was made general manager of the Burlington lines in Missouri. Meanwhile Gould had been learning railroading from the top.

Control Temper.
The man who lets temper get the best of him can never be logical, never view in the right light of reason.

United States were among those who first appearance of the big airship which is to attempt trans-Atlantic flight.

Akron, O.—In the presence of more than 10,000 spectators M. Vanniman gave his big dirigible Akron an airing on Sunday last. It was impossible to fly in it as one of the propellers was out of gear and could not be fixed up in time. The front of the hangar was removed however and the great crowd of spectators assembled were given the first look at the Akron since its construction was begun. Naval and military experts from Canada and the inspected the airship. The crew for and which he lost in the Atlantic. The flight across the ocean will commence on Sunday next. The machine has been put in charge. It is expected that the machine will be made in a few weeks, every part of the working equipment. The new airship is a vast improvement and making the metal underbody a over the one in which Vanniman sailed.

Strength of Love.
Love feels no burden, thinks nothing of trouble, attempts what is above its strength, pleads no excuse of impossibility; for it thinks all things lawful for itself, and all things possible. It is, therefore, able to undertake all things, and it completes many things, and warrants them to take effect, where he who does not love would faint and lie down.—Thomas a Kempis.

Need Cotton Hand Looms.
The revival of the cotton hand loom is thought to be the solution of the question of the industrial regeneration of India. This year there were spun 213,067,534 pounds of cotton, a falling off of more than 14,000,000 pounds, but the yards woven amounted to 254,331,745, an increase of 23,000,000 yards. This has been due to the great increase in the number of hand looms in use.

Birds Easily Made Captives.
A bird expert has returned to Europe from the West Indies with over 200 captives. He boiled down trees sap into a thick, sticky mess, and put it on shrubs and branches at places where birds took food and drink. Once they grasped the sticky perch they were fast and could not fly away, says the expert. Some were caught by tying to a string large grains which birds swallowed, and there they were. Among the captives are starlings, finches, pigeons, doves, herons and canaries.

Their Own Victims.
"Why is it," said the discouraged housewife, "that all our cooks become so discontented and irritable?" "That's easily explained," answered Mr. Groucher. "They have to eat their own dinners and get dyspepsia."

The Philosopher of Folly.
"When a man's up," says the Philosopher of Folly, "everybody's down on him. But when he's down, it's all up with him."

Signs of Civilization.
Civilization is nothing more than politeness, industry and fairness. Savages are always thieves, always loafers and always impulsive and unfair.—Atchison Globe.

Keeping Clear of Danger.
"If you want to keep you conscience peacefully easy," said Uncle Eben, "it's a good idea never to trade horses nor borrow an umbrella."

American Interests Threatened.
An Anglo-Persian oil syndicate is drilling wells extensively at Abwaz, on the Karun river, Mesopotamia, Turkish Arabia. This threatens the market of American oil.

Safety-Valve.
Some men would swell up and burst if they didn't get married, and have some of the conceit taken out of them.—Atchison, Kan., Globe.

WOMAN'S PAGE

Christmas Gifts for Girl Friends.

MANY a girl is doing some hard thinking about now as to what to give her girl friends Christmas. Much of course depends upon the tastes of one's friends. The girl who goes to dances and the theatre a lot will appreciate one kind of gift; and the studious, quiet girl, another kind. The outdoor lover will want one thing; and the girl tied to a business desk all day, something quite different. So in planning, bear the particular likes or work of your various friends in mind, if you want to send the most acceptable things.

Just now, so many pretty things are worn in the hair, that the girl who goes about much would no doubt welcome a smart hair band. These can be easily made at home at comparatively small cost. Make it to harmonize with the evening dress or hat. Smart little theatre caps, too, are pretty; or if your friend is a motorist, an auto hood or knitted cap would no doubt be welcome.

A beautiful handkerchief for evening use never comes amiss. A girl can make this at home by getting the finest, shooreset handkerchief linen, and trimming it with corner-pieces or an edge of some fine real lace. One can buy these lace motifs and insert them one's self. Handkerchiefs trimmed with real lace are rather expensive in the shops, but they can be made at home at much less cost.

Corsage bouquets of ribbon flowers are always welcomed by the girl who goes about. The girl who is at all clever with her fingers can fashion wonderfully dainty ribbon flowers, pretty not only for party dresses, but also for the hair.

Bedroom slippers scarcely ever come amiss, and many dainty kinds can be made by the home-girl. Crocheted slippers are warm and pretty; and slippers made of ribbon are very dainty. Quite inexpensive, but very welcome, nevertheless, are bed-slippers made of thick soft eldordown. The reversible kind that is plain on one side, and figured or of a contrasting color on the other is prettiest.

A dainty hand-made side frill would be liked by the girl fond of all the latest accessories of dress. It can be made in many ways, but the very fact that it is hand-made is its chief charm.

The girl who wants to send some inexpensive but dainty gift can make wonderfully attractive calendars by mounting a foreign postcard on a mat and adding a little calendar-pad and a bow of pretty ribbon. Foreign postcards are much prettier than those of our own country, the coloring is so much softer and more artistic. Carbon reproductions of famous paintings are also to be had on foreign postcards, and these make exquisite calendars mounted on a mat of harmonious shade. Often among these postcards can be discovered most individual effects. One girl was lucky enough to stumble on a little group of five cards, each depicting the door-way of some famous artist or writer of London, and each daintily hand-colored. They were only a few cents each, too. She snatched them eagerly, made fascinating calendars, and sent them to literary and artistic acquaintances. These foreign postcards are on sale in almost all the large stores, though one should make selection early, as close to Christmas time, they are put away for more strictly Christmas goods.

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

ISN'T it a queer quirk of human nature that no matter how much better someone else could manage our own affairs than we, we all want to manage them ourselves?

There is no doubt whatever but that there are many capable, worthy people born with a talent for managing, who could manage some of their "shifless friends" affairs far better than they themselves. Frequently these capable folks are generously willing to do this. And yet the shifless folks are almost never willing to give over to others the managing that they do so ill themselves.

Isn't it queer?

I am thinking of the sad case of a woman who is a very capable housewife and a very skillful manager in every way.

Besides keeping her home in model order, this woman finds time to run her husband's business and to decide every tiniest detail of her children's lives—what they shall eat and wear and drink, where they shall go, what they shall do every hour of the day and as far as possible what they shall say and think.

Nor does this large program employ all her energies. Indeed no. She is constantly sighing for more worlds to conquer.

And—like all of her type—constantly finding them in other people's affairs.

She knows that her household is considered a model one, that her ways are better than other people's and have brought excellent results, and naturally she wants other people to adopt these ways.

And "other people" means all with whom she comes in contact. She cannot enter a home without generously trying to show its inmates how to make it like her model home. With neighbors and friends and relatives she nobly labors to get them to adopt her ways and methods and to let her show them how to manage their affairs as successfully as she has her own.

And what do you think? Everywhere she goes she meets with base ingratitude.

She told me so herself.

"If you could know all I do for Cousin Ann's family," she said, "and how ungrateful they are. You know you isn't a very good housekeeper and she's had children so fast that she simply can't keep things up the way they should. Now whenever I go there I help her clean that house from attic to cellar, show her the convenient way I have of arranging my pantry, tell her all the little economies I learn at the dietetic school, try to make the children behave a little better, sew with her, show her how I make Emma's and Mabel's clothes and do everything I possibly can for her; yet often she seems really ungrateful and sometimes I even think the children dislike me. It seems so hard to me when I love them all and want to do all I can for them."

Isn't it a queer quirk of human nature that no matter how much better someone else could manage our own affairs than we, we all want to manage them ourselves?

But a quirk that is quite as universal as it is queer.

And the sooner the large class of capable, kindly, managerial, well-meaning, exasperating people—of whom this woman was a type—realize this, the happier they and everyone else will be.

MEN'S DRESS.

A READER writes: "I was impressed with your comment on the man who said women ought not to vote as long as they could not fasten their own gowns. But does it follow that we men should be deprived of suffrage because we struggle unsuccessfully so many times to get a dress collar fastened on a 'balled shirt'?"

Now, isn't that fine spirit? It would not take long to put the whole subject of dress on a better basis if both men and women could see its humor; yes, and its tragedy. I once saw a farmer with his child in his arms, refused admission to the dining car because he was in his shirt sleeves. The little girl had been bitten by a dog, and the father had rushed from the field just as he was to catch the first train to Chicago for treatment.

The wearing of a coat in hot weather is altogether senseless. A man's dress in winter for indoors is much too heavy and warm. The high, stiff collar is unhygienic and conducive to colds and throat trouble. The soft shirt with turn-down collar and tie is more artistic, becoming and suitable for the house.

Men's hats, how they cling to them! I never understood it until once I asked my small boy why he must always wear his hat, and he replied, "Why, I have to have it to speak to the ladies." We must begin with our boys as we our girls to teach them rational principles of dress. If health, comfort and becomingness are men's standards, they will appreciate those qualities in women's clothes, and perhaps women will be less inclined to extravagance and extremes.

DISHES FOR INVALIDS.

The following are dishes liked by invalids and are refreshing and nourishing. The manner of serving even a glass of lemonade is most important in a sick room. Attractiveness counts for more here than any other quality.

Hot Lemonade.—Shave the rind from a lemon using only the thin outer rind, pour over it one and a half cups of boiling water and let steep while the juice is extracted from the lemon; add this to the water with two tablespoonfuls of sugar, strain and serve at once. If allowed to cool it makes a strong lemonade.

Quick Beef Tea.—Put a half pound of lean round steak through the meat chopper and then into frying pan, heat slowly to extract the juice; turn into a potato ricer and squeeze out all the juice. This extract will need to be diluted before being served. If heated care should be taken not to overcook the albumen. Add salt to make it palatable. This meat may be used for croquettes or any dish with high seasoning.

Bread Gruel.—Take a cup of dried bread crumbs, simmer in a pint of water until smooth. Rub through a strainer, season lightly with salt and serve either hot or cold. For variety the crumbs may be browned first, or flavor with extract of beef, or reduce the water to one-half and fill the cup with cream or milk.

Spanish Cream.—Soak a half teaspoon of granulated gelatin in a cup of milk. After it is dissolved add a cup of sugar and a beaten egg yolk. Cook until the egg is thick, stirring constantly, add fifteen drops of vanilla and strain into a mold to cool.

Ice Cream.—Boil together five minutes a tablespoonful of sugar and two of water, add a cup of thin cream and a half teaspoonful of vanilla, mix well and pour into a pound baking powder can. Plunge into salt and ice in a large pail or bowl and open and beat well every five minutes. It will be frozen in fifteen minutes. For those suffering from gastric inflammation, beef tea and soups are often tolerated if frozen like ice cream.

CURIOUS BITS OF HISTORY

JEFFERSON'S GREAT UNCONSTITUTIONAL BARGAIN.

By A. W. MACY.

In 1803 President Jefferson asked Napoleon to sell the United States a strip of land at the mouth of the Mississippi river. Napoleon replied by making the astonishing proposition to sell the whole region west of the Mississippi for $15,000,000. Jefferson was in a quandary. Here was an opportunity to secure an immense territory, vastly rich in its natural resources, at a mere fraction of its value. Yet it could not be done lawfully under the constitution, and Jefferson and his party were great sticklers for the constitution. There was no time for delay; whatever was done must be done quickly. The constitution could be amended, but that would take time, and the golden opportunity might escape forever. With the shrewd instinct of a keen business man Jefferson decided to close the bargain and trust the people to justify his act. His judgment was confirmed, not only by his own but by succeeding generations. At one stroke of the pen the area of the United States was almost doubled. It was a more momentous act than even the writing of the Declaration of Independence.

Ever Measure Thread?

A sealer of weights and measures has been visiting drygoods stores during the past few days, and in each one has purchased a spool of cotton, for which he has paid three cents, and invariably has found that the amount of cotton does not measure as much as is specified on the spool. According to specifications there should be 200 yards on each spool, but the measurements vary between 180 and 200.—Boston Transcript.

UP-TO-DATE HOUSEKEEPING.

Overlooked Food Values of Skim Milk. Menu Using Seven Pints.

By Alice E. Whitaker.

Many people can remember some one back in the home town to whom the villagers had given the title of "Skim Milk" because he realized that liquid around the town at a cent or two a quart. The proud housewife did not like to have "Skim Milk Jones" stop in front of her door lest the neighbors should think that she was practicing extreme economy. Indeed many housekeepers doubted whether anything was saved by using what seemed but a poor apology for milk. Their idea of the composition and food value of skim milk was as hazy as that of the woman who asked: "What part of the milk is milk and what part is water?"

The popular idea of milk is that cream represents all that is worth considering. This is a mistake. Average milk, as drawn from the cow, has 87 per cent water and 13 per cent milk solids. Of these, three and a half to four per cent is fat, or what, after churning, becomes butter. The remaining nine per cent, or thereabouts, is chiefly sugar and protein. The latter element is an essential in a well balanced diet. It is largely supplied by meat, eggs and cheese, and is, as a rule, expensive.

Skim milk is whole milk minus the fat, and has all the protein there is in the whole milk. We can get fat at less expense than the fat of milk, by the usual mixed diet. Using skim milk instead of water in mixing bread adds to its nutritive value, and the bit of shortening generally put into bread, makes up the deficiency of fat in the milk. Skim milk can be used to advantage in what are called creamy soups, the white sauce for omelette, in rice and tapioca puddings, and other desserts and in making milk sherbets. Skim milk is an excellent drink either plain or with cocoa added. It is a theme building or growing food and that is what children especially require. Its sustaining power is well illustrated by the condition of patients who are kept solely on a skim milk diet in certain diseases.

In preparing the following menu to serve to four people, seven pints of skim milk could be used and without undue prominence of milk being noted in the food. It includes cream of vegetable soup; chilled beef in white sauce; scalloped potatoes and a minute pudding or better yet a baked Indian pudding.

As a foundation for creamy soups use one quart of skim milk two level tablespoonfuls each of flour and butter and cook ten or fifteen minutes in a double boiler. Add enough of any kind of boiled or sifted vegetable to make of the right consistency, and season with salt and white pepper, and sometimes with a little onion juice.

When served hot such a soup is especially good for luncheon or for the children's supper or for dinner when the meat course is a little short. Potatoes, carrots, asparagus, beans, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, corn, onions, peas, spinach, tomatoes, beets, turnips or lentils can be used as taste dictates or the supply on hand makes advisable. By using different vegetables a great variety is given to the diet by this one way of utilizing skim milk.

Skim milk is better than whole milk for Indian puddings that are baked a long time and which to be just right, must whey a little. A little chopped suet adds the fat which was taken from the whole milk in the cream, and the combination of skim milk and suet makes a much better tasting pudding than one made in any other way.

For a minute pudding, scald one quart of skim milk in a double boiler, add one cup of flour mixed smooth with one cup of cold skim milk and a pinch of salt. Stir until smooth, then cook thirty minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat two eggs light, add a little of the cooked mixture, then add all to the double boiler and beat smooth. Cook until the egg thickens. Serve with any liquid sauce.

A lemon sauce is made as follows: Mix one-quarter cup of flour with two-thirds cup of sugar and stir all at once into two cups of boiling water. Cook slowly ten minutes. Add a little of the mixture to one beaten egg, stir smooth and turn into the larger amount and cook until the egg thickens. Add a tablespoonful of butter, the juice of a large lemon and the grated rind of half a lemon.

Englishman's Peculiar Will.

Tears were evidently shed by W. D. Foster, a London theatrical man, who requested that no woman should be present at his funeral, and that, if his wife survived him, his body should be cremated, on the theory that ashes do not lie as closely as dust to the fountain of tears.

DIET AND HEALTH HINTS

NON-FLESH EATERS NOT "MOLLYCODDLES."

Persons who are weak in body and mind often become vegetarians in the hope of gaining strength, but the fact that many persons who eat no flesh are deficient in energy and aggressiveness does not warrant the insinuation with which Dr. Wiley has been credited in the newspapers, that the non-flesh eater is a "mollycoddle." If it is true of many who discontinue the use of flesh as food, there is at least one exception in the Mexican revolutionary leader, Madero, and the writer thinks he knows another. Many persons, probably, would change their diet and other habits if they had the courage needed.

Over-Worked Girls

Read What This Girl Says:

Appleton, Wis.—"I take pleasure in writing you an account of my sickness. I told a friend of mine how I felt and she said I had female trouble and advised me to use Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as she had taken it herself for the same trouble with wonderful results. I had been sick for two years and overworked myself, and had such bad feelings every month that I could hardly walk for pain. I was very nervous and easily tired out and could not sleep nights. I had dizzy spells, and pimples came on my face. But I have taken your Vegetable Compound and I am entirely cured. I think it is the best medicine in existence."—Miss Cecilia M. Bauer, 1101 Lawrence St., Appleton, Wis.

THIS GIRL SAYS IT IS WOMAN'S BEST FRIEND:

Chicago, Ill.—"Your Compound cured all my troubles and I am feeling strong and happy and able to work now. Wherever I go I shall praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as I think it is woman's best friend. I have told all my friends the good it has done me."—Miss Maggie Ishauer, 2118 So. Whipple Street, Chicago, Illinois.

Lorimer, Iowa—"I had a heavy cold in the spring and got all run down and was irregular. I had no strength and had bearing down pains in my sides and back, and was very nervous and excitable. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I am all right again, and stronger than before."—Miss L. E. Williams, Lorimer, Iowa.

Is it not reasonable to suppose that a medicine that did so much for these girls will benefit any other girl who is suffering with the same troubles?

Does it not seem the only sensible thing to give such a medicine at least a trial? You may be sure that it can do you no harm, and there is lots of proof that it will do you much good.

For 30 years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been the standard remedy for female ills. No sick woman does justice to herself who will not try this famous medicine. Made exclusively from roots and herbs, and has thousands of cures to its credit.

Mrs. Pinkham invites all sick women to write her for advice. She has guided thousands to health free of charge. Address Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

24 HATS FOR 25c.

Miss Wilma Berger and types of hat which she can create from one original investment of 25c.

Chicago, Ill.—To a Chicago girl, Miss Wilma Berger, 3130 Southport Ave., belongs the distinction of having fought and conquered the high cost of living bogy, especially as it refers to the hat. She has through her ingenious method created from one original hat which cost 25c, practically all of the latest fads and fancies from the aerial to the alpine. She can, with this one hat, a feather and a ribbon, so arrange the pattern and bury the style that she can feel well dressed on all occasions.

The foundation is made of velvet and like the little crusher hats so popular with the men, they can be rolled up to carry in a suit case or handbag. It is reversible and can be worn either side out thus deviating the color scheme. Miss Berger bought her material at a bargain sale and shades she selected were brown for one side and light brown on the other.

SIDEWALK SKETCHES

By H. L. RANN.

BIG BUSINESS.
Big business is a term of reproach calculated to cast opprobrium upon every man who has the price of a pair of theatre tickets and two suits of clothes a year. It is responsible for more crimes against the English language than a textbook on rhetoric. Whenever a candidate for Congress wants people to forget how he voted on the tariff, he turns a three-inch stream of eloquence and added grammar on big business.

and riddles its prostrate form with split infinitives. Big business is supposed to control the prices of all commodities, from seedling onions to non-almond waffles, and as a consequence it is no longer admitted to our best homes. Many a man is throwing the books into big business in order to conceal the splinters on a driving horse from a non-sighted purchaser. Big business is a favorite topic of vituperative conversation with agents for land which never grew anything but sage brush and a prospectus in three colors. We are always a little leary of the man who punctures the steel trust with one hand while trying to sell us a Cuban fruit farm on $2 down and $1 a month with the other. It is a peculiar fact that very frequently the man who is so horrified at the crimes of big business that he can't pay his barber bill will be found to have more blue sky for sale than a scenic painter. Just now your Uncle Samuel is trying to equip big business with a high check and a wire bill, and if he succeeds there will be a shrinkage in the demand for pop-eyed oratory.

No Infallible Method.
A leading mathematician of France gives another warning that there is no infallible method of doubling one's stakes after a loss. "All one can do," says he, "is to combine one's play so as to have a great chance of winning a little and a little chance of losing much, and many chances of losing little."

Dessie Was Willing.
"Oh, dear," said the third mother, "I wish I were a little 'r again like you!" "Well," rejoined five-year-old Dessie, "let's play you are my little girl, then you act naughty, and I'll spank you and send you to bed without your supper."

A Million Rubber Trees in China.
An official report estimates the number of Para rubber trees under cultivation in Coochin China as over 1,000,000, of which about 600,000 are being tapped. Present plans contemplate the planting of 4,000,000 additional trees as soon as the work can be done.

St. Louis, Mo.—If any one doubts that Miss Mary Dougan and Daisy Myers walked all the way from New York to St. Louis, they only have to look at their shoes to have all the proof needed. More convincing yet are the protruding pink cheeks over soon in St. Louis. Only weeks in the open country air could have made that color.

UNCLE SAM'S NAVY REVIEWED BY SECRETARY AND OTHER NOTABLES.

BATTLESHIP CONNECTICUT

New York, Nov. 8.—The greatest naval pageant in recent years attracted international attention as the one hundred and two ships comprising a considerable part of Uncle Sam's fighting force gathered in the Hudson river gaily decorated for the holiday. The mobilization at New York covered three days, October 30, 31 and November 1, inclusive. There were twenty-four battleships; two armored cruisers; two cruisers; twenty-two destroyers; sixteen torpedo boats; eight submarines and other vessels of less importance.

Secretary of the Navy Meyer is responsible for the mobilization. To him belongs the credit for the idea. To the cruise but when about to start the Franco-German dispute over Morocco arose. It was deemed diplomatic not to send the ships then. After that came the Italian-Turkish troubles and it was then that he hit upon the scheme of reviewing Major General Wood's "dazzling dash" of an army force. He decided to have a quick mobilization of ships both on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts.

SMOKING ROOM, RMS. MEDINA

ROYAL VOYAGE TO INDIA.

London, England, Everything is in readiness for the Royal trip to India. King George V and Queen Mary together with the members of the Royal party, sail tomorrow on H. M. S. "Medina". The ship has been magnificently fitted especially for this voyage and every possible luxury known has been arranged for the convenience of the Royal party. Among the guests on this voyage are the Countess of Shaftesbury, the Marchioness of Bute, the Marquis of Bute, Countess of Cusla, Countess of Mar and Kellie, Earl of Shaftesbury, Duchess of Hamilton and others.

The Queen has a magnificent array of gowns made from rich silks and satins, hand-painted. The party is to be carried to India in two vessels, many of them going on the "Medina" a companion ship of the Medina.

DR. SIMON FLEXNER

DISCOVERS CURE FOR SPINAL MENINGITIS.

New York, N. Y.—The announcement at the closing session of the annual conference of the Sanitary Officers of the state of New York by Dr. Simon Flexner, director of the Rockefeller Institute, that he had discovered, after many experiments, a cure for spinal meningitis, was flashed around the world as one of the great scientific discoveries of the century. For years this deadly disease has been claiming its victims in spite of every effort which surgeon and doctor could put forth. The method of treatment is by serum injected into the cerebral membrane.

Peculiar Family Reunion.

There is a man in New York, a brilliant writer, who, twice divorced, is now living happily with his third wife. Last year he gave a dinner to his three wives, and he said it was really a delightful reunion.

Finding One's Work.

Blessed is he who has found his work; let him ask no other blessing. He has a work, a life purpose; he has found it, and will follow it—Thomas Carlyle.

Trouble for Some Careless One.

One evening Fred, aged four, saw a shooting star for the first time. Running into the house he exclaimed: "Oh, mamma! I'll bet there's going to be trouble in heaven to-night. Somebody let one of the stars fall."

Whisky as a Mistake.

A Kentucky preacher who has been indicted upon the human race. Yes, it seems to be one of the mistakes that got worse the more you try to rectify it.—Houston Post.

INDUSTRIAL AND MECHANICAL NOTES

The art of manufacturing rolls by machinery was first practiced in 1730. As far back as 1550 it was customary to make pencils that carried black lead.

Cloth is now woven from a species of seaweed. Its fibers may be spun into threads like cotton.

The manufacture of what is called "American-style" furniture is becoming an important industry in Spain. A machine which cuts up wood to make matches turns out 40,000 "splints," as they are called, in a minute.

The automobile factories of Michigan employ 50,000 men, in addition to 20,000 engaged in the manufacture of parts.

Digging a 14-foot sewer at Monticello, N. Y., has unearthed a large copper mine which had been long forgotten.

In a new washing machine the turning of a crank revolves the bottom and operates a vertical plunger at the same time.

A simple clamp has been patented by a resident of New Jersey to hold a miter joint together firmly while it is being glued.

It is rather singular that Washington is the only state west of the Rockies that contains coal from which coke can be made.

A recent United States patent covered a centrifugal machine for converting liquid soap into solid, either in bar or powdered form.

For cutting ice in small quantities there has been invented a short, stout saw, with a chisel at the end of the blade and a pick at the back.

The Disputant.

True disputants are like true sportsmen, their whole delight is in the pursuit; and a disputant no more cares for the truth than the sportsman for the hare.—Pope.

THE RIGHT KIDNEY MEDICINE

J. E. Parker, 2021 No. 10th St., Ft. Smith, Ark., says that he had taken many kinds of kidney medicine, but did not get better until he took Foley Kidney Pills. No matter how long you have had kidney trouble, nor at what stage of the disease your case may be, you will find quick and permanent benefit by the use of Foley Kidney Pills. They also regulate the action of the urinary organs. Start taking them now. Badger Drug Co.

C.P. RODGERS

not yet fully demonstrated that the airship is perfected as a means of transportation. It has proven beyond a doubt that it is of incalculable value, particularly in times of war and the prevailing opinion is that within a comparatively few years some ingenious Yankee will so perfect the type that it will be just as safe and far more speedy than the transcontinental trains.

Los Angeles, Cal.—By completing the transcontinental airship flight from the Atlantic to the Pacific, Calbraith Perry Rodgers wins the crown of "King of Aviators." Five years ago not one person in 100 believed a heavier than air airship would ever fly from New York to Philadelphia. Today the world is not astonished particularly when Rodgers, with comparative ease and without serious mishap, flies from coast to coast. While it is Commercial Value of Sunflower. In some countries, notably in the Russian provinces of the Caucasus the sunflower serves other purposes besides ornamenting gardens with its huge golden blossoms. The seeds are used to make oil, which is employed both in the manufacture of soap and in cooking. The stems and leaves are burned and the ashes used to make potash. Last year the sunflower factories of the Caucasus produced 15,000 tons of potash.

Designed by Nature. Parents might as well try to turn back the waters of the Niagara as to decide what profession or business their sons should adopt. God gives to every man a particular work he can do and in the performance of which he can be happy, but the place which a man can fill with satisfaction to himself and all with satisfaction to himself and others is that for which nature designed him.—Exchange.

The War Game. War is an extremely simple game. A number of armed men are picked upon another body of armed men, and they engage in the highly exciting and diverting sport of maiming and slaying one another. The contestant which can slaughter the most combatants and starve the most non-combatants is adjudged the winner. Simple, is it not?

The Way to Happiness. To look fearlessly upon life; to accept the laws of nature, not with meek resignation, but as her sons, who dare to search and question; to have peace and confidence within our souls—these are the beliefs that make for happiness.—Muterhick.

Considerate Hosts. Up to 1869 it was the custom for guests invited to an English banquet to carry their own knives and forks. Now they are provided by the host and often carried away for souvenirs.

Only True Test. No one who is a lover of money, a lover of pleasure, or a lover of glory, is likewise a lover of mankind; but only he who is a lover of virtue.—Epictetus.

The Real Trouble. The trouble we husbands have with our wives begins with our marrying them. There is seldom any trouble with them before.—Dallas Lore Sharp, in the Atlantic.

A MAIL CARRIER'S LOAD. Seems heavier when he has a weak back and kidney trouble. Fred Duhrren, Mail Carrier at Aichison, Kans., says: "I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. Whenever I carried a heavy load of mail, my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago, I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills and since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever." Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, and quick in results. Try them. Badger Drug Co.
